
Title: Gate Theory

Author: Xellos

Blue Gates

Blue gates transport the user from one point on a world to another point on the same world.

Red Gates

Red Gates transport one from one point on one world to another point on another world.

Facet Gates

Gates of varying colors that take users to another plane of reality on a similar world.

Black Gates

Gates that take the user to a completely different plane of reality on a different world.

Yellow Gates

Theoretical Gates that would most likely transport a user through time on the user's current world.

Empathic Powers and Gates

Empaths apparently can gain a high sense of understanding of another being if they send their awareness through a black gate instead of entering themselves. This person is chosen at random, but is always be the same for each focus. All powers

work through gates.
